City In Tears 哭泣的城市

A Historical Account of Hongkong's Extradition Turmoil

The true record is a memory of history.

The extradition bill introduced by the Hong Kong SAR government suddenly triggered large-scale turmoil. More than half a year later, people still wonder how a lawful and civilized Hong Kong turned into a monstrous place overnight.

Hong Kong had changed into a strange place where our own people destroyed homes and buildings, attacked citizens, and trampled laws underfoot. It was as if human nature had gone awry, and civilization was crying.

Ta Kung and Wen Wei colleagues risked their lives and used their words and cameras to record this dark moment in our history. The truth shall never be lost!
